ALFREDO EZQUERRA. PHOTOGRAPHER. Industrial Engineer decided to try his luck looking for employment in the British capital. The result of his work, is a beautiful, carefully selected collection of photographs which demonstrate perfect symmetry, powerful forms and interesting spacial vision. The intention of his camera was to encompass everything from whole urban landscapes to the most simple detail; from symbolic, well recognised buildings to the smallest unnoticed corner, and above all, to capture the emotions of the people who live there.

How I found my Oomph.

"I get quite tired so I go swimming, which feels nice, missed, and peaceful. I have a daughter aged 13 and a son aged 4 and now my husband joined us we all come together. My son loves the pool because he keeps his heart out. It tires him out for bedtime... He can swim underwater and is doing brilliant. I've only recently discovered the Jacuzzi, what is lovely, spacious, warm and comforting, like a blanket."
